

Artist, Educator & Conservationist

Born and brought up in Patna, and now settled in New Delhi, I am a conservationist, teacher, and a practicing bird artist.

My penchant for birds and wildlife conservation has always had an influence on my art. I'm usually found in my studio in New Delhi, trying to convey both the magnificence and fragility of birds through the use of watercolors, acrylic, and charcoal, on diverse mediums.

My attempt is to capture the brilliant colors of all things avian, across the Indian subcontinent. Currently, I'm working on owls, sparrows, kingfishers and Native birds of various Indian states.

My Exhibitions

Coringa bird festival 2018, from 14th Dec till 15th

In Coringa, Kakinada in Andhra Pradesh I exhibited a series of Kingfishers found in A Andhra Pradesh. It is called "Glorious hues of kingfishers in Andhra Pradesh"

'A tail of two Tuntuni birds' on birds

Gully 39, Khan Market, New Delhi. A solo show on Birds of Delhi from November 3rd till 10th, 2018

'A bird came down the walk'

Madhuban, Dehradun: A solo show organized by VOW (Valley of words) in November 2018.

Myths and legends of Black-billed Magpie in Ladakh.

A touchable painting on Black-billed Magpie. Exhibited at LAMO (Ladakh Arts and Media Organization) Leh, Ladakh in September 2018

Contributed to World Sparrow Day 2018 along with Nature Forever Society.

Did an art exhibition on sparrows of India that are fast disappearing, at India Habitat Centre, Delhi called Ek Thi Chidiya.

A Sculpture for Gaj Yatra "The bird and the elephant" for Wildlife Trust of India. A four and a half foot tall sculpture of an elephant and a bird Cattle egret on top of the elephant warning the elephants from their enemies.

"A bird came down the Walk... An ode to the birds of Mussoorie". A solo show in Mussoorie, Utrakhand. In June 2018. In Savoy, Mussoorie.

“A Bird Call” Solo show in the Visual Art Gallery, New Delhi, 18th-22nd March 2022

Currently working for upcoming show in Gurugram
17-26 February 2023